From Homeliness' to Loveliness Some Interesting Facts From Charming Julia Deane

to make the most of perfectly possible charms—of charms you may acquire and cultivate if you have brains.

Have you a sense of humor? An interest in humanity? Do you want to be charming? Fascinating? Popular? The combination will make you a super-beauty. So just listen to the little talk I had with Miss Deane out in the wings between her exits and entrances in a most amusingly makes-you-sit-up-and-take-notice play.

Was Once Homely.

Was Once Homely.

"I've been brought up on a digt of remembering that even my own loving and admiring mother doesn't call me a beauty now and does confess that I was once a 'homely little kid," began Miss Deane, who may be right in her insistence that she isn't a beauty. She may be right. But Julia Deane has a soft-eyed, soft-haired attractive-

Will Go With Department of Commerce and Labor Has Been Long in Valley.

Las Cruces, N. M. Oct. 10.—Homer J. Gault, of the U. S. reclamation service, left for Painsville, Ohio, last night to take a position with the department of commerce and labor.

The employes of the U. S. reclamation service, as a token of appreciation of him, gave Mr. Gault yesterday a 17 jewel gold watch. Inside of the case was inscribed, "Presented to Homer J. Gault by his civil engineer associates of the Rio Grande project, New Mexico-Texas, 1913." Texas, 1913."

The initials "H. J. G." were engraved upon the outside of the case. When Mr. Gault was transferred from Elephant Butte to the canal work in the Las Palomas, Rincon and Mesilla valleys, the employes at Elephant Butte pre-sented him with a pair of field glasses, handsomely mounted and with his inihandsomely mounted and with his initials engraved upon them.

Mr. Gault has been an employe of the Rio Grande project since the autumn of 1906, when he took charge of the construction of the diversion dam for the east side of the Mesilla valley, and located near Selden, as it was then known, but the station has now been changed to Medler. After the construction of the diversion dam, he next located the railroad and wagon roads at Elephant Butte and constructed most of the wagon roads.

the wagon roads.
In July, 1909, the work at Elephant
Butte was suspended because the government had not secured the damsite and a large part of the reservoir sit; from the Victoria Land and Cattle company. This was condemned and purchased. After the purchase of this land construction construction work was resumed in July, 1910, and Mr. Gault was construction engineer. After the construction of the railroad, the two towns were built, the waterworks system was installed, the power house was built, the flume was built and the towers erected. Mr. Gault had charge of all the preliminary work for the construction of the dam. About a year and he was placed on the Little Water in Ditches.

There is but little water in the ditches about Las Cruces. It was shut out at the order of Earl Patterson, of the U. S. reclamation service, because the canal of the Las Cruces Mesilla community ditches is not in good condition as the contract with the reclamation service calls for. Some time ago the Las Cruces-Mesilla ditches brought sult against Mr. Stuart for turning an arroyo so the debris was deposited in the canal. The ditch people did not remove the debris, while there was no water. When water was available it was allowed to remove available it was allowed to spread out over a large area and finally found its way back into the canal. The back water in the Las Cruces-Mesilia canal has caused considerable damage. A number of the people in the valley are now wanting water.

PRICES FALL AWAY; GRAINS RECO

NOTE—All market news on this page reflects closing sale prices (unless buy or hid be specified) Friday, Oct. 10, 1912.

New York, Oct. 10.—Prices fell away again today when the absence of anything approaching support was demonstrated by an early raid on the copper group. There was virtually no outside demand for stocks and bear traders forced down quotations easily. Fear of over-extending their position, however, acted as a check on their activities and selling pressure grew less prohounced after the first hour. Although Union Pacific developed especial weakness, the announcement of the directors yesterday, followed by judge Lovett's supplementary statement of today, deprived the market of a prop which had been used effectually by built traders. Pressure from abroad was renewed. Union Pacific reached its low figure of yesterday, while Heading and Steel fell under that day's low market. Toward noon prices rose fractionally on short covering.

Bands were steady.

Scarcity of stocks around prevailing ering.

Bonds were steady.

Scarcity of stocks around prevailing prices caused the market to make up ground rapidly in the early afternoon. Union Pacific and Steel scored full recoveries, but Reading did not do so well and Amalgamated moved nervously and made little headway, being hampered by the break in copper warrants abroad and rumors of fresh price cuttings.

Chicago, III., Oct. 19.—Uneasiness of shorts, to whom the government report was a somewhat disagreeable surprise, rallied the wheat market today, which showed a little weakness at the outset. The opening was unchanged to the lower, and there was a slight further decline, after which prices rose above yesterday's close.

Corn received substantial support from bull leaders and more than recovered from a methack due to the government report.

Opening figures were unchanged to to be off, and some additional depression easued, but a later upturn carried the market higher than the previous close.

Oats were relatively weak. Longs unloaded, influenced by the increase of the, Washington increase, compared with September.

Higher prices for hogs steadled provisions. First sales were at last night's figures, with changes later mainly upward.
